Muhammad & the Qur'an: A Man & Book of War, or Peace? Part 1

All through the world, and throughout the United States, the propaganda machine of Islamic apologetics and political pundits are using all of their influence to convince nations that Islam is like any other religion. They try to make people believe that Islam is similar to Christianity or Judaism. Muslim spokesmen claim that Islam is a "Religion of Peace", and in Islamic countries Christians can live alongside Muslims. They say that the Crusades were unprovoked attacks against Muslims by Christians and this is what started the animosity that Muslims have against Christians today. I believe the truth is of extreme importance for the survival of religious and personal freedom in America and the rest of the free world. I believe in order to research the truth of these and other statements that are being made about Islam, we need to study the words of the founders of the religions; the recordings of their holy books and the historical facts. For the sake of this article, I am comparing Muhammad vs. Jesus; the Qur'an vs. the Bible and history itself. My reference is the book, The Politically Incorrect Guide to Islam (And the Crusades) by Robert Spencer.

"First basic fact: Muhammad ibn Abdallah ibn Abd al-Muttalib (570-632), the prophet of Islam, was a man of war. He taught his followers to fight for his new religion. He said that their god, Allah, had commanded them to take up arms." Pg 4

Jesus Christ was in fact a man of peace. Jesus never taught retaliation. Jesus never taught his followers to fight or go to war. Jesus taught, "...if anyone strikes you on the right cheek, turn to him the other also..." (Matthew 5:39). Muhammad taught, "Therefore, when ye meet the unbeliever in fight, smite at their necks; at length, when ye have thoroughly subdued them, bind a bond firmly on them: thereafter is the time for either generosity or ransom, until the war lays down its burden... But those who are slain in the Way of Allah, He will never let their deeds be lost." (Qur'an 47:4)

Jesus taught love and forgiveness and that his followers should be known by their love. Jesus taught that this world was not His kingdom, therefore, obey those who rule over you. Jesus taught, "Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use and persecute you" (Matthew 5:44) Muhammad in contrast, "Will ye not fight a folk who broke their solemn pledges, and purposed to drive out the messenger and did attack you first?" (Qur'an 9:13) Muhammad taught his followers to fight, hate, torture and kill their enemies. "Against them make ready your strength to the utmost of your power, including steeds of war, to strike terror into the hearts of the enemies, of Allah and your enemies, and others besides, whom ye may not know, but whom Allah doth know." (Qur'an 8:60) Truly the founders of Islam and Christianity were totally opposite in their teachings and in their lifestyles. The teachings and lifestyle of Jesus Christ are clearly based on the fruit of the Holy Spirit, defined in Galatians 5:22-23, "But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance..."

"The Qur'an is a Book of War. There are over one hundred verses in the Qur'an that exhort believers to wage jihad against unbelievers. "When you meet the unbelievers in the battlefield, strike off their heads, and when you have laid them low, bind your captives firmly" (Qur'an 47:4). "O ye who believe! Fight the unbelievers who gird you about, and let them find firmness in you: and know that Allah is with those who fear Him" (Qur'an 9:123). This warfare was to be directed against both those who rejected Islam and those who professed to be Muslims but did not hold to the fullness of the faith. "O Prophet! Strive hard against the unbelievers and the hypocrites, and be firm against them. Their abode is Hell, an evil refuge indeed" (Qur'an 9:73) Jihad is the highest duty of Muslims: "Do ye make the giving of drink to pilgrims, or the maintenance of the Sacred Mosque, equal to the pious service of those who believe in Allah and the Last Day, and strive with might and main in the cause of Allah [jihad fi sabil Allah]? They are not comparable in the sight of Allah: and Allah guides not those who do wrong. Those who believe, and suffer exile and strive with might and main, in Allah's cause [jihad fi sabil Allah], with their goods and their persons, have the highest rank in the sight of Allah: they are the people who will achieve salvation" (Qur'an 9:19-20). In Islamic theology, 'jihad fi sabil Allah' refers specifically to taking up arms for Islam." Pg 19-20

This teaching of Muhammad and the Qur'an was directed at what the West has classified as 'moderate Muslims'. We must understand that moderate Muslims are constantly being pressured into becoming serious Muslims who obey/follow the teachings of Muhammad and the Qur'an.

"Paradise is guaranteed to those who "slay and are slain" for Allah: "Allah had purchased of the believers their persons and their goods; for theirs (in return) is the garden [of Paradise]: they fight in His cause, and slay and are slain: a promise binding on Him in truth" (Qur'an 9:111). One may attempt to spiritualize such verses, but there is no doubt from the historical record that Muhammad meant them literally." Pg 21

Some Islamic and Western apologists would suggest that both the Qur'an and the Bible are equally violent and promote violence, but the facts relate that this is not the case. The Qur'an is a book calling believers in Allah to war and violence against infidels. An infidel is any person who is not a Muslim. The Qur'an calls all Muslims to war against the infidels universally and for every generation until Allah rules the world forever. In the New Testament Jesus Christ never calls his believers to physically fight and kill the unbelievers. The New Testament is not a book of war. In the Old Testament God commands the Hebrews to war against the Hittites, the Girgashites, the Amorites, the Canaanites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites (Deuteronomy 7:1-2; 20:10-17; and Numbers 31:17-18). These were particular people at that specific time who were on the land that God gave to the Israelites. Also, this was during the Old Testament time period and that commandment has now been finished for thousands of years. Nobody has ever had to fear the teachings of Jesus Christ or the Bible as they do not teach to kill your enemies or conquer the world by war. The Bible is not a book of war but of love, forgiveness and righteousness.

"That's one reason why Jews and Christians haven't formed terror groups around the world that quote these Scriptures to justify killing civilian non-combatants. By contrast, Osama bin Laden, who is only the most visible exponent of a terror network that extends from Indonesia to Nigeria and into Western Europe and the Americas, quotes the Qur'an copiously in his communiqués. In his 1996 "Declaration of War against the Americans Occupying the Land of the Two Holy Places," he quotes suras 3:145; 47:4-6; 2:154; 9:14; 47:19; 8:72; and of course the notorious "Verse of the Sword," sura 9:5. In 2003, on the first day of the Muslims holy celebration Eid al-Adha, the Feast of Sacrifice, he began a sermon: "Praise be to Allah who revealed the verse of the Sword to his servant and messenger [the Prophet Muhammed], in order to establish truth and abolish falsehood." Of course, the devil can quote Scripture for his own purpose, but Osama's use of these and other passages in his messages is consistent...with traditional Islamic understanding of the Qur'an. When modern-day Jews and Christians read their Bibles, they simply don't interpret the passages cited as exhorting them to violent actions against unbelievers. This is due to the influence of centuries of interpretative traditions that have moved away from literalism regarding these passages. But in Islam, there is no comparable interpretative traditions. The jihad passages in the Qur'an are anything but a dead letter. In Saudi Arabia, Pakistan, and elsewhere, a key recruiting ground for jihad terrorist groups is the Islamic school: The students learn that they must wage jihad warfare, and then these groups give them the opportunity." Pg 31-32

"The Qur'an is clear enough about the warfare that Muslims must wage against unbelievers, but it lacks overall clarity. In its entirety, the Qur'an is a monologue: Allah is the only speaker (with a few notable exceptions), and with no particular concern for narrative continuity, he speaks with Muhammad about various events in the Prophet's life and about the earlier Muslim prophets... That makes reading the Qur'an somewhat like walking in on a private conversation between two unknown people: It's confusing, disorienting, and ultimately incomprehensible. That's where the Hadith, the traditions of Muhammad, enter. The Hadith are volumes upon volumes of stories of Muhammad in which he (and sometimes his followers) explains how and in what situations various verses of the Qur'an came to him, pronounces on disputed questions, and leads by example. In a very few number of 'ahadith' (the plural of hadith), Muhammad quotes words of Allah that do not appear in the Qur'an; these are known as the hadith qudsi, or holy hadith, and Muslims consider them to be just as much the revealed Word of Allah as the Qur'an itself-and often the Qur'anic text is simply incomprehensible without them. The focus of many ahadith, not surprisingly is war." Pg 33

"...there is no mistaking the centrality of violent jihad in Islam...the Prophet of Islam repeatedly emphasized that there was nothing better his followers could do than engage in jihad warfare. When a Muslim asked him to name the "best deed" one could do, besides the act of becoming a Muslim, the Prophet responded, "To participate in jihad (holy fighting) in Allah's Cause." He explained that "to guard Muslims from infidels in Allah's Cause for one day is better than the world and whatever is on its surface." For "a journey undertaken for jihad in the evening or morning merits a reward better than the world and all that is in it."...Muhammad also warned that Muslims who did not engage in jihad would be punished: "Muhammad was firm about the necessity of jihad not only for himself personally, but for every Muslim. He warned believers that "he who does not join the warlike expedition (jihad), or equip, or looks well after a warrior's family when he is away, will be smitten by Allah with a sudden calamity." Pg 34

There are people who say that Islam is tolerant and peaceful, but the reality is just not true. Islam is definitely not a peaceful religion unless a person converts and becomes a Muslim. Neither is Islam a tolerant religion as the West would understand tolerance.

"In one key hadith, Muhammad delineates three choices that Muslims are to offer to non-Muslims...conversion, subjugation (pay the jizya, the poll-tax on non-Muslims), which... "is the cornerstone of an entire system of humiliating regulations that institutionalize inferior status for non-Muslims in Islamic law", or death. These teachings are not marginal doctrines or historical relics-they are still taught in mainstream Islam." Pg 35, 37

"Politically Correct Myth: Islam is a religion of peace that has been hijacked by a tiny minority of extremists. This, of course, is the mother of all PC myths about Islam. Yet its persistence and resilience in the face of mountains of evidence to the contrary, both from Islamic theology and today's newspapers, is not simply due to naïve multiculturalism and cynical duplicity. Even the Muslim Brotherhood theorist Sayyid Qutb, one of the twentieth century's foremost advocates of violent jihad, taught (without a trace of irony) that Islam is a religion of peace. However, he had a very specific kind of peace in mind: "When Islam strives for peace, its objective is not that superficial peace which requires that only that part of the earth where the followers of Islam are residing remain secure"...In other words, Islam is a religion of the peace that will come when everyone is Muslim or at least subject to the Islamic state. And to establish that peace, Muslims must wage war." Pg 42

In the United States and other countries, there are those we classify as moderate Muslims that do coexist with their non-Muslim neighbors. The reality is that this takes place because these moderate Muslims simply ignore the clear teachings of their faith, but history proves to all of us that those teachings can be remembered at any time. The reason why we are not defeating the terrorists is because moderate Muslims are becoming serious about their faith and starting to obey the Qur'an, which is a book of war against the infidels. Islam is a religion of war and a religion of intolerance.

"The Crusades were not acts of unprovoked aggression by Europe against the Islamic world, but were a delayed response to centuries of Muslim aggression, which grew fiercer than ever in the eleventh century. These were wars for the recapture of Christian lands and the defense of Christians, not religious imperialism. The Crusades were not called in order to convert Muslims or anyone to Christianity by force." Pg 121

No, on the contrary, it was the Muslims who had stoked the fires of millennial hostility by conquering two-thirds of what had been Christian lands centuries before the first Crusades ever began. Muhammad threatened the neighboring non-Muslims with his threat to "embrace Islam and you will be safe." As has already been explained, Muhammad and his Qur'an dictates war for infidels and one has to convert to Islam, pay taxes, or die.

"The conquest of Jerusalem in 638 stood at the beginning of centuries of Muslim aggression, and Christians in the Holy Land faced an escalating spiral of persecution. A few examples: Early in the eighth century, sixty Christian pilgrims from Amorium were crucified; around the same time, the Muslim governor of Caesarea seized a group of pilgrims from Iconium and had them all executed as spies-except for a small number who converted to Islam; and Muslims demanded money from pilgrims, threatening to ransack the Church of the Resurrection if they didn't pay. Later in the eighth century, a Muslim ruler banned displays of the cross in Jerusalem. He also increased the anti-religious tax (jizya) that Christians had to pay and forbade Christians to engage in religious instruction of others, even their own children. Brutal subordination and violence became the rules of the day for Christians in the Holy Land. In 772, the caliph al Mansur ordered the hands of Christians and Jews in Jerusalem to be stamped with a distinctive symbol. Conversions to Christianity were dealt with particularly harshly. In 789, Muslims beheaded a monk who converted from Islam and plundered the Bethlehem monastery of Saint Theodosius, killing many more monks. Other monasteries in the region suffered the same fate. Early in the ninth century, the persecution grew so severe that large numbers of Christians fled to Constantinople and other Christian cities. More persecution in 923 saw additional churches destroyed, and in 937, Muslims went on a Palm Sunday rampage in Jerusalem, plundering and destroying the Church of Calvary and the Church of the Resurrection. In reaction to this persecution of Christians, the Byzantines moved from a defensive policy toward the Muslims to the offensive position of trying to recapture some of their lost territories... In Islamic theology, if any land has ever belonged to the House of Islam, it belongs forever-and Muslims must wage war to regain control over it." Pg 122, 123.

Islam does not care that the Christian lands were not originally theirs, and that they took them by force. The Crusades temporarily stopped the aggression and invasion of Christian people and lands, but today Islam is spreading throughout the world faster than ever, with Europe on the verge of becoming Islamic. The sad, scary and dangerous reality about this is that the West has no clue how to stop this Islamic invasion and conquering of lands, people, and freedoms that were once enjoyed. The world thinks that by appeasing Islam they can persuade Muslims to vote for them and become a more Western value oriented religion. The truth is this can never be accomplished, because Muhammad, the founder of Islam, and his holy book the Qur'an, call for 'jihad' until all the world is under Islamic control. Then and only then can peace be achieved. The world must either convert to Islam, be subjugated or die. This is what Muhammad and the Qur'an classify as peace. What every person and country who loves freedom needs to understand is that a Muslim is first loyal to Muhammad, Allah and the Qur'an, not the country in which they live, unless it is under Islamic law.

"Not only does Islam command warfare against unbelievers and their subjugation under Islamic rule; it also...sanctions lying, stealing, and killing in order to advance Islam." Pg 79

Below are some excerpts from the book, "Philistine" by Ramon Bennett: 'During the 1991 Gulf War against Iraq, a survey was taken of Arab-American Moslems living in the United States, and the results were startling for those that conducted the survey. They reported that a staggering 82 percent said they would not fight nor would they allow their sons or daughters to fight for the United States in the war... On the day that Arafat signed the agreement on the White House lawn-on the very day-he made an address to the Palestinian Arabs on Jordan TV in which he said inter alia: 'Since we cannot defeat Israel in war we do this in stages. We take any and every territory that we can of Palestine, and establish a sovereignty there, and we use it as a springboard to take more. When the time comes, we can get the Arab nations to join us for the final blow against Israel.' ... Arafat's concept of peace is the same as that of Mohammed and Saladin... 'Peace for us means the destruction of Israel. We are preparing for an all-out war which will last for generations...The PLO offers not the peace of the weak, but the peace of Saladin.' Saladin was the great Moslem warrior of the 12th century. His capture of Jerusalem in 1187 sparked the Third Crusade. But Saladin is also 'famous' for the 'peace' which he made with the Crusaders, before he attacked with ferocity and drove the Crusaders from the Holy Land. It was Mohammed himself who laid the foundation for Islam to build a history of making peace with an enemy in order to attack at a later, more opportune time. In 628 Mohammed made a 'peace treaty' with the Kuraish tribe in Mecca in order for Moslems to worship at the Ka'abah. Two years later, when he had gained more followers and was considerably stronger, he abrogated the treaty and attacked the Kuraish people, slaughtering every male among them. This agreement between Mohammed and the infidels of Mecca is known as the 'Truce of Hudaibiyah'. 'This truce became a model and a precedent in Islamic law for all agreements with infidels: never permanent...'

Ladies and Gentlemen: We are in serious trouble today, not only in the United States of America, but throughout the world. Islam is sweeping nation after nation. I believe this is because society does not understand the true nature of this religion. The "politically correct" propaganda machine is both ignorantly and deliberately lying to the nations that Islam is a peaceful religion. Yet in reality, the very core doctrine of Islam is to rule the world, by force if necessary. What the West classifies as radicals, are really just Muslims that are actually following their faith. (to be continued)

The Politically Incorrect Guide to ISLAM

(and the Crusades)

by Robert Spencer

CHAPTER 1:

Muhammad: Prophet of War

Muhammad did not teach "peace and tolerance." Muhammad led armies and ordered assassinations of his enemies. Islamic tradition allows for negotiated settlements only in service of the ultimate goal of Islamic conquest.

CHAPTER 2:

The Qur'an: Book of War

The Qur'an commands Muslims to make war on Jews and Christians. Oft-quoted tolerant, peaceful Qur'anic verses have actually been canceled, according to Islamic theology.

CHAPTER 3:

Islam: Religion of War

Muhammad taught his followers that there was nothing better (or holier) than jihad warfare. Muhammad told his men to offer non-Muslims only three choices: conversion, subjugation, or death. These teachings are not marginal doctrines or historical relics - they are still taught in mainstream Islam.

CHAPTER 4:

Islam: Religion of Intolerance

Islamic law mandates second-class status for Jews, Christians, and other non-Muslims in Islamic societies. These laws have never been abrogated or revised by any Islamic authority. The idea that Jews fared better in Islamic lands than in Christian Europe is false.

CHAPTER 5:

Islam: Oppresses Women

The Qur'an and Islamic law treat women as nothing more than possessions of men. The Qur'an sanctions wife-beating. Islam also allows for child marriage, the virtual imprisonment of women in their homes, "temporary marriage" (i.e., prostitution - but only for Shi'ites!), and more.

Muhammad & the Qur'an: A Man & Book of War, or Peace? Part 2

POLITICAL CORRECTNESS states that "Islam is a peaceful religion". Is that true or a myth?

In my first article titled, "Muhammad & the Qur'an: A Man and Book of War, or Peace?", we studied the life and teachings of Muhammad because the founder of any religion teaches and portrays the true identity and meaning of the religion. We also examined the core teachings of the Qur'an since the holy book of any religion guides the lives, values, conduct and attitude of its followers. We also studied the history of the disciples of Muhammad to see if there is a pattern throughout history that proves the true beliefs of Islam. For example, the disciples of Jesus became martyrs by giving up their lives to spread the gospel of love and forgiveness that Jesus taught. They did not defend themselves or retaliate in hatred and vengeance. The disciples of Jesus did not try to force people into accepting Jesus by threatening to cut off their heads, or forcing them to pay taxes to avoid being killed, and then requiring them to live under special laws against non-Muslims which are designed to be prejudice and humiliating.

Below are some excerpts from the book, "Philistine", by Ramon Bennett: "Islam is the antithesis of Biblical Christianity. Christianity advocates love and compassion toward God and one's neighbor; Islam promotes hatred and cruelty... Mohammed, the founder of Islam, wrote the Koran, the Moslem holy book. It is a mixture of desert folklore and customs, revelations of Mohammed, and elements of teaching from both Judaism and Christianity... Not only have parts of the Koran been lost or deliberately removed, but 'entire verses and chapters have been added to it'... The Koran also claims that Abraham was thrown into a fire by Nimrod. The mere fact that Nimrod died centuries before Abraham was born appears to be of no account! The Koran contains many such errors. As a young child Mohammed was nursed by a Bedouin woman by the name of Halima... 'The child had had numerous fits, which made Halima think he was demon possessed.' Early Moslem tradition records that when Mohammed was about to receive a revelation from Allah: '...he would often fall down on the ground, his body would begin to jerk, his eyes would roll backward, and he would perspire profusely...' It was while Mohammed was in this 'trancelike' state that he received his 'divine' revelations... Mohammed had 'an appetite for women' and married 15 wives, including a ten year old girl. He even married the ex-wife of his adopted son who was divorced from her husband specifically for that pur- pose. The marriage caused such a scandal that Mohammed received 'divine' revelation to the effect that he was married by Allah's direct command... In February 1989, Salman Rushdie, a Moslem living in the United Kingdom, wrote a novel entitled 'Satanic Verses' which caused a worldwide storm among Moslems... The verses concerned Mohammed's appeasement of the pagans in Mecca. He received 'divine' revelation that it was 'perfectly proper to pray to and worship the three daughters of Allah: Al-lat, Al-Uzza and Manat.' The verses caused another storm within Islam because it showed rejection of monotheism in favor of polytheism. But Mohammed later returned to monotheism and subsequently received revelation of Allah's ability to 'abrogate', that is, cancel a past revelation and replace it with a 'similar' or 'better revelation'. The 'Satanic verses' were not included in the text of the Koran after Mohammed's death; they were 'abrogated'. 'The literature on the 'Satanic verses' is so vast that an entire volume could be written just on this one issue. Every general and Islamic reference work, Moslem or Western, deals with it as well as all the biographies of Mohammed.'... While Mohammed was trying to encourage the Jews to accept him as a prophet, Moslems prayed five times each day facing Jerusalem and also kept the Jewish Sabbath and other Jewish laws. When it became increasingly obvious that the Jews were not at all interested in becoming his disciples, the incensed prophet changed the direction of prayer by turning his back to Jerusalem and faced Mecca instead. He also dropped the Jewish laws, and adopted the pagan Friday Sabbath in place of the Jewish Sabbath... Moslem scholar and statesman Ali Dashti writes: 'The historical evidence is crystal clear that Mohammed adopted the pagan religious rite of a pilgrimage to Mecca to worship at the Ka'abah in order to appease the Meccan merchants who made a tremendous amount of money out of these pilgrimages. Thus, for financial and cultural reasons, Islam adopted the pagan pilgrimage to Mecca... The roots of Islam are buried in Arabia-in Mecca-in a square, stone building called the Ka'abah... In the Ka'abah, there were 360 jinn (genies-idols, angels and demons), one of whom was called Allah...' 'Allah is a purely Arabic term used in reference to an Arabian deity.' 'Allah was known to the pre-Islamic Arabs; he was one of the Meccan deities.' 'Allah-worship, as well as the worship of Baal, were both astral religions in that they involved the worship of the sun, the moon, and the stars.' 'In Arabia, the sun god was viewed as a female goddess and the moon as the male god... The name Allah was used as the personal name of the moon god.' 'Allah, the moon god, was mar-

CHAPTER 6:

Islamic Law:

Lie, Steal, and Kill

Islam's only overarching moral principle is "if it's good for Islam, it's right." Islam allows for lying, as well as stealing and killing, in certain circumstances. This leads to largescale deception campaigns today.

CHAPTER 7:

How Allah Killed Science

The much-ballyhooed "Golden Age" of Islamic culture was largely inspired by non-Muslims. Core elements of Islamic belief militated against scientific and cultural advancement. Only Judaism and Christianity, not Islam, provide a viable basis for scientific inquiry.

CHAPTER 8:

The Lure of Islamic Paradise

The Qur'an describes Paradise in terms that make it clear that it is a place merely to indulge one's physical appetites. September 11 hijacker Muhammad Atta packed a "paradise wedding suit" into his luggage on that fateful day. Paradise is guaranteed only to those who "slay and are slain" for Allah.

CHAPTER 9:

Islam - Spread by the Sword?

You bet.

What is known today as the "Islamic world" was created by a series of brutal conquests of non-Muslim lands. These were of religious imperialism, not self-defense. The early spread of Islam and that of Christianity sharply contrast in that Islam spread by force and Christianity didn't.

CHAPTER 10:

Why the Crusades were Called

The Crusades were not acts of unprovoked aggression by Europe against the Islamic world, but were a delayed response to centuries of Muslim aggression, which grew fiercer that ever in the eleventh century. These were wars for the recapture of Christian lands and the defense of Christians, not religious imperialism. The Crusade were not called in order to convert Muslims or anyone else to Christianity by force.

CHAPTER 11:

The Crusades:

Myth and Reality

The Crusades were not early manifestations of European colonialism in the Middle East. The Crusader massacre of Jews and Muslims in Jerusalem in 1099 was a terrible atrocity, but it was nothing unusual according to the rules of warfare of the time. The Crusades were not called in order to target Jews as well as Muslims.

CHAPTER 12:

What the Crusades Accomplished - And what They Didn't

After the Crusades, the Muslims resumed their attempts to conquer Europe by jihad. Christians were as responsible as Muslims for the rried to the sun goddess. Together they produced three goddesses who were called 'the daughters of Allah.' These three goddesses were called Al-lat, Al-Uzza, and Manat [of the 'Satanic verses']. It was the Jewish refusal to accept Mohammed as their prophet that instigated the raw Islamic hatred against them...Allah subsequently commanded Mohammed to destroy all the other idols in the Ka'abah, and thus Allah, the moon god, became Allah, and Islam, 'absolute submission', was born... The Middle East is the homeland of Islam. It is where Islam was born... And in 1948, the Jews (whom Mohammed, the prophet of Allah, belittles in the Koran and urges his followers to kill) disposed Allah from a portion of his land... For this reason, 1948 became 'the day of the greatest shame in the modern history of the Arabs.' The 'face' of the Arab nation was 'blackened' with shame, as was the face of its god... No true Moslem can rest until Israel as a nation is obliterated, Allah, the god of Islam, has been dispossessed of a portion of his land, and his honor has been sullied, as has that of his 'warriors'-Israel must be annihilated to restore that honor... The Koran forbids the existence of the Jewish state, and there can be no peace in the Middle East while it exists... Mohammed, who all Moslems revere, said, as he was dying: 'Never do two religions exist in Arabia.'... Mohammed, the founder of Islam, who taught his followers that: 'A day and night of fighting on the frontier is better than a month of fasting and prayer.'... Mohammed's teachings urged his followers on, and still initiates, statements like the one previously cited from the Moslem cabinet minister, that 'Violence is the Moslem's most positive form of prayer.' 'Let the reader make no mistake; both the Jews and Christians are targeted for total annihilation, unless they are willing to submit to Islam... Christians must heed what Moslems in the Middle East chant in their demonstrations: 'First we will fight the Saturday people; then we will fight the Sunday people.' '...In their holy war against the infidels of the Judeo-Christian faiths, they declare that they will first reckon with the 'Saturday' (that is, conquer the Jews). Then 'Sunday' will succumb to the conquering hordes of the prophet and his god, Allah. Islam will thus triumph over the 'Christian' world.' " "Philistine", by Ramon Bennett

"In 1831 Alexis de Tocqueville, a young French aristocrat and ambitious civil servant, made a nine-month journey throughout America. The result was "Democracy in America," a monumental study of the life and institutions of the evolving nation. Tocqueville looked to the flourishing democratic system in America as a possible model for post-revolutionary France, believing that the egalitarian ideals it enshrined reflected the spirit of the age and even divine will. His insightful work has become one of the most influential political texts ever written on America and an indispensable authority on democracy." Amazon.com (Democracy in America - Editorial Review by Isaac Kramnick)

The Politically Incorrect Guide to Islam

Alexis de Tocqueville on Islam: "I studied the Quran a great deal. I came away from that study with the conviction that by and large there have been few religions in the world as deadly to men as that of Muhammad. So far as I can see, it is the principal cause of the decadence so visible today in the Muslim world and, though less absurd than the polytheism of old, its social and political tendencies are in my opinion more to be feared, and I therefore regard it as a form of decadence rather than a form of progress in relation to paganism itself." Pg 25

John Quincy Adams on Islam: "In the seventh century of the Christian era, a wandering Arab of the lineage of Hagar [i.e. Muhammad], the Egyptian, combining the powers of transcendent genius, with the preternatural energy of a fanatic, and the fraudulent spirit of an impostor, proclaimed himself as a messenger from Heaven, and spread desolation and delusion over an extensive portion of the earth. Adopting from the sublime conception of the Mosaic law, the doctrine of one omnipotent God, he connected indissolubly with it, the audacious falsehood, that he was himself his prophet and apostle. Adopting from the new Revelation of Jesus, the faith and hope of immortal life, and of future retribution, he humbled it to the dust by adapting all the rewards and sanctions of his religion to the gratification of the sexual passion. He poisoned the sources of human felicity at the fountain, by degrading the condition of the female sex, and the allowance of polygamy, and he declared undistinguishing and exterminating war, as part of his religion, against all the rest of mankind. THE ESSENCE OF HIS DOCTRINE WAS VIOLENCE AND LUST: TO EXALT THE BRUTAL OVER THE SPIRITUAL PART OF HUMAN NATURE... Between these two religions, thus contrasted in their character, a war of twelve hundred years has already raged. The war is yet flagrant... While the merciless and dissolute dogmas of the false prophet shall furnish motives to human action, there can never be peace upon earth, and good will towards men." Pg 83

Winston Churchill on Islam: "How dreadful are the curses which Mohammedanism lays on its votaries! Besides the fanatical frenzy, which is as dangerous in a man as hydrophobia in a dog, there is this fearful fatalistic apathy. Improvident habits, slovenly systems of agriculture, sluggish methods of commerce, and insecurity of property exist wherever the followers of the Prophet rule or live. A degraded sensualism deprives this life of its grace and refinement; the next of its dignity and sanctity. The fact that in Mohammedan law every woman must belong to some man as his absolute property-either as a child, a wife, or a concubine-must delay the final extinction of slavery until the faith of Islam has ceased to be a great power among men. "Individual Moslems may show splendid qualities. Thousands become the brave and loyal soldiers of the Queen: all know how to die. But the influence of the religion paralyses the social development of those who follow it. No stronger retrograde force exists in the world. Far from being moribund, Mohammedanism is a militant and proselytizing faith. It has already spread throughout Central Africa, raising fearless warriors at every step; and were it not that Christianity is sheltered in the strong arms of science-the science against which it had vainly struggled-the civilization of modern Europe might fall, as fell the civilization of ancient Rome." The Pentagon Breaks the Islam Taboo

By Paul Sperry - FrontPageMagazine.com

December 14, 2005

Now for the first time, a key Pentagon intelligence agency involved in homeland security is delving into Islam's holy texts to answer whether Islam is being radicalized by the terrorists or is already radical. Military brass want a better understanding of what's motivating the insurgents in Iraq and the terrorists around the globe, including those inside America who may be preparing to strike domestic military bases. The enemy appears indefatigable, even more active now than before 9/11. Are the terrorists really driven by self-serving politics and personal demons? Or are they driven by religion? And if it's religion, are they following a manual of war contained in their scripture?

Dealing with the threat on a tactical and operational level through counterstrikes and capture has proven only marginally successful. Now military leaders want to combat it from a strategic standpoint, using informational warfare, among other things. A critical part of that strategy involves studying Islam, including the Quran and the hadiths, or traditions of Muhammad. "Today we are confronted with a stateless threat that does not have at the strategic level targetable entities: no capitals, no economic base, no military formations or installations," states a new Pentagon briefing paper I've obtained. "Yet political Islam wages an ideological battle against the non-Islamic world at the tactical, operational and strategic level. The West's response is focused at the tactical and operation level, leaving the strategic level - Islam - unaddressed."

So far the conclusions of intelligence analysts assigned to the project, who include both private contractors and career military officials, contradict the commonly held notion that Islam is a peaceful religion hijacked or distorted by terrorists. They've found that the terrorists for the most part are following a war-fighting doctrine articulated through Muhammad in the Quran, elaborated on in the hadiths, codified in Islamic or sharia law, and reinforced by recent interpretations or fatwahs. "Islam is an ideological engine of war (Jihad)," concludes the sensitive Pentagon briefing paper. And "no one is looking for its off switch."

"Strategic themes suggest Islam is radical by nature," according to the briefing, which goes on to cite the 26 chapters of the Quran dealing with violent jihad and the examples of the Muslim prophet, who it says sponsored "terror and slaughter" against unbelievers.

"Muhammad's behaviors today would be defined as radical," the defense document says, and Muslims today are commanded by their "militant" holy book to follow his example. It adds: Western leaders can no longer afford to overlook the "cult characteristics of Islam."

It also ties Muslim charity to war. Zakat, the alms-giving pillar of Islam, is described in the briefing as "an asymmetrical war-fighting funding mechanism." Which in English translates to: combat support under the guise of tithing. Of the eight obligatory categories of disbursement of Muslim charitable donations, it notes that two are for funding jihad, or holy war. Indeed, authorities have traced millions of dollars received by major jihadi terror groups like Hamas and al-Qaida back to Saudi and other foreign Islamic charities and also U.S. Muslim charities, such as the Holy Land Foundation.

According to the Quran, jihad is not something a Muslim can opt out of. It demands able-bodied believers join the fight. Those unable -- women and the elderly -- are not exempt; they must give "asylum and aid" (Surah 8:74) to those who do fight the unbelievers in the cause of Allah.

The internal document explains that Islam divides offensive jihad into a "three-phase attack strategy" for gaining control of lands for Allah. The first phase is the "Meccan," or weakened, period, whereby a small Muslim minority asserts itself through largely peaceful and political measures involving Islamic NGOs -- such as the Islamic Society of North America, which investigators say has its roots in the militant Muslim Brotherhood, and Muslim pressure groups, such as the Council on American-Islamic Relations, whose leaders are on record expressing their desire to Islamize America.

In the second "preparation" phase, a "reasonably influential" Muslim minority starts to turn more militant. The briefing uses Britain and the Netherlands as examples.

And in the final jihad period, or "Medina Stage," a large minority uses its strength of numbers and power to rise up against the majority, as Muslim youth recently demonstrated in terrorizing France, the Pentagon paper notes.

It also notes that unlike Judaism and Christianity, Islam advocates expansion by force. The final command of jihad, as revealed to Muhammad in the Quran, is to conquer the world in the name of Islam. The defense briefing adds that Islam is also unique in classifying unbelievers as "standing enemies against whom it is legitimate to wage war."

Right now political leaders don't understand the true nature of the threat, it says, because the intelligence community has yet to educate them. They still think Muslim terrorists, even suicide bombers, are mindless "criminals" motivated by "hatred of our freedoms," rather than religious zealots motivated by their faith. And as a result, we have no real strategic plan for winning a war against jihadists. The hardest part of formulating a strategic response to the threat is defining Islam as a political and military enemy. Once that psychological barrier has been crossed, defense sources tell me, the development of countermeasures -- such as educating the public about the militant nature of Islam and exploiting "critical vulnerabilities" or rifts within the Muslim faith and community -- can begin.

"Most Americans don't realize we are in a war of survival -- a war that is going to continue for decades," the Northcom official warns.

Dear fellow human being: It does not matter where you live or what your ideological, philosophical, and religious beliefs are, we all need to be concerned about Islam! (to be continued) May God bless you and give you peace. Dr. Jonathan Hansen

Islamic conquest of Eastern Europe: They made short-sighted and ultimately disastrous alliances with jihad forces. Western leaders who think non-Muslims can "win hearts and minds" among Islamic jihadists are similarly naive and shortsighted.

CHAPTER 13: What if the Crusades Had Never Happened?

Although the Crusades failed in their primary objective, they played a key role in staving off the jihad conquest of Europe. The peoples who lived in the "tolerant, pluralistic Islamic societies" of old dwindled down to tiny, harassed, despised minorities. Islamic distaste for unbelievers is a constant of Islamic history and persists today.

CHAPTER 14: Islam and Christianity: Equivalent Traditions?

Most modern-day presentations of the Crusades are politically motivated, ahistorically nonsense. The problem the world faces today is not generalized "religious fundamentalism" - it is Islamic jihad. We will not be able to resist jihad without recovering pride in Western civilization.

CHAPTER 15: The Jihad Continues

Islam has not reformed or changed its traditional doctrines of jihad warfare. Modern-day jihad groups are working to restore the caliphate as a means to further their war with the West. These groups despise democracy as a Western import at odds with the caliphate and sharia.

CHAPTER 16: "Islamophobia" and Today's Ideological Jihad

The UN has condemned "Islamophobia" while turning a blind eye to atrocities committed by jihadists. The charge of "Islamophobia" is used to intimidate and silence critics of violent jihad in Islam. Some groups are even trying to brand those who tell the truth about Islam and jihad as purveyors of "hate speech."

CHAPTER 17: Criticizing Islam May Be Hazardous to Your Health

One Australian state has outlawed speaking the truth about Islam...and Great Britain and other countries are contemplating similar law. Violent Islamic intimidation has come to the West: Film-maker Theo van Gogh was murdered on an Amsterdam street for allegedly offending Muslims. Converts from Islam to Christianity must live in fear even in the United States.

CHAPTER 18: The Crusade We Must Fight Today

Europe could be Islamic by the end of the twenty-first century. In order to defeat the international jihadist threat, the U.S. must reconfigure its alliance on the basis of where countries stand on Islamic jihad.

The Politically Incorrect Guide to ISLAM

(and the Crusades)
by Robert Spencer

Women are inferior to men, and must be ruled by them: "Men have authority over women because God has made one superior to the other" (Qur'an 4:34)

The Qur'an likens a woman to a field (tilth), to be used by a man as he wills: "Your women are a tilth for you to cultivate so go to your tilth as ye will." (2:223)

It declares that a woman's testimony is worth half that of a man: "Get two witnesses, out of your own men, and if there are no two men, then a man and two women, such as ye choose, for witnesses, so that if one of them errs, the other can remind her." (2:282)

It allows men to marry up to four wives, and have sex with slave girls also: "If ye fear that ye shall not be able to deal justly with the orphans, marry women of your choice, two or three or four; but if ye fear that ye shall not be able to deal justly with them, then only one, or a captive that your right hands possess, that will be more suitable, to prevent you from doing injustice." (4:3)

It rules that a son's inheritance should be twice the size of that of a daughter: "Allah thus directs you as regards your children's inheritance: to the male, a portion equal to that of two females." (4:11)

Muhammad & the Qur'an: A Man & Book of War, or Peace? Part 3

In part one and two of this article series, I have established that Muhammad was a man of war by comparing Jesus vs Muhammad; the Bible vs the Qur'an and history itself, including commentaries, periodicals and book assessments. It has also been established that the Qur'an is a book of war and that history ascertains this fact. There are news reports stating that the Pentagon verified this view that I have stated above. Also, Muhammad was a wealthy businessman who indulged in his passions and lusts. He married fifteen wives when the Qur'an commands Muslims to marry up to 4 wives, however, Muhammad said that Allah allowed him to have more because he was Allah's special prophet. As we have established in my earlier articles, Muhammad was a vicious warrior who spread fear, torture, persecution and death throughout the world. In the name of and by the teachings of Muhammad, the Qur'an and Allah, the disciples of Islam had aggressively, through war, taken over two thirds of Christian lands. Finally, the Crusade campaigns reduced this Islamic onslaught of torturing, controlling and killing Christians who refused to convert to Islam.

Jesus Christ consistently taught a well-known message of peace, forgiveness and love and there is no controversy concerning this. He taught His disciples to turn the other cheek rather than seek vengeance. Throughout His lifetime, including his testimony to Pilate at His trial, Jesus stated that this world was not His kingdom. His disciples were taught to obey the laws of the land, including the Roman law, even though the Romans were their oppressors at that time. Jesus instructed His disciples that if your enemy compels you to carry their equipment one mile, then carry it two miles voluntarily. There can be no doubt that Jesus Christ was totally different in his teachings and lifestyle than that of Muhammad. Jesus lived a life of sacrificial choices. He did not indulge in the appetites of lust and self pleasure. Jesus was a righteous and virtuous man. Jesus did not go around the country terrorizing, plundering and murdering those who refused to become his disciples. Jesus did not threaten his enemies who persecuted or rejected him but commanded his followers to love their enemies and bless them.

"And seeing the multitudes, He went up on a mountain, and when He was seated His disciples came to Him..." "Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth. Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they shall be filled. Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy. Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God. Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called sons of God. Blessed are those who are persecuted for righteousness' sake, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven." (Matthew 5:1, 5-10)

"You have heard that it was said to those of old, 'You shall not murder, and whoever murders will be in danger of the judgment.' But I say to you that whoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment. And whoever says to his brother, 'Raca!' shall be in danger of the council. But whoever says, 'You fool!' shall be in danger of hell fire." (Matthew 5:21-22)

"You have heard that it was said, 'An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.' But I tell you not to resist an evil person. But whoever slaps you on your right cheek, turn the other to him also. If anyone wants to sue you and take away your tunic, let him have your cloak also. And whoever compels you to go one mile, go with him two. Give to him who asks you, and from him who wants to borrow from you do not turn away. "You have heard that it was said, 'You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy.' But I say to you, love your enemies, bless those who curse you, do good to those who hate you, and pray for those who spitefully use you and persecute you..." (Matthew 5:38-44)

Yes, it is very clear to all people that Jesus and Muhammad taught and lived in completely different ways. They had a totally different set of moral and ethical value systems.

What concerns me about America, and some other countries throughout the world, is the ignorance of people regarding Muslim history. Muslims use this ignorance to try to convince government officials that their religion is a peaceful religion and has been throughout history. This is the furthest thing from the truth. Read on to discover that, in the United States, this twisting of truth has cheated American political leaders because they were ignorant about their own American history.

Jefferson had Quran to know his enemies

Ellison spokesman says book represents 'religious tolerance'

A Special Forces veteran and commentator says new Muslim Congressman Keith Ellison (Hakim-Mohammad) of Minnesota was absolutely right when he said Thomas Jefferson gleaned knowledge from the Quran - only it was knowledge about his enemies that Jefferson likely gleaned.

It tells husbands to beat their disobedient wives: "Good women are the obedient, guarding in secret that which Allah hath guarded. As for those from whom ye fear rebellion, admonish them and banish them to beds apart, and scourge them." (4:34) Pg 67

Wife-beating

Muhammad was once told that "women have become emboldened towards their husbands," whereupon he "gave permission to beat them." When some women complained, Muhammad noted: "Many women have gone round Muhammad's family complaining against their husbands. They are not the best among you." He was unhappy with the women who complained, not with their husbands who beat them. At another point he added: "A man will not be asked as to why he beat his wife." Pg 69-70

Just Like Today:

Wife-beating

The Pakistan Institute of Medical Sciences has determined that over 90 percent of Pakistan wives have been struck, beaten, or abused sexually - offenses on the order of cooking an unsatisfactory meal. Others were punished for failing to give birth to a male child. Pg 70

Just Like Today:

Put down that book

Islamic hardliners in Pakistan were so opposed to the education of women that, in one tumultuous five-day period in February 2004, they burned eight girls' schools. Pg 73

Aisha, the most beloved of Muhammad's many wives, admonished women in no uncertain terms: "O womenfolk, if you knew the rights that your husbands have over you, every one of you would wipe the dust from her husband's feet with her face." Individual Muslims may respect and honor women, but Islam doesn't. Pg 67-68

The Prophet "married 'Aisha when she was a girl of six years of age, and he consummated that marriage when she was nine years old." Pg 69

A report in the FreePress reported Ellison said the fact that Jefferson owned the book confirmed that it was "definitely an important historical document in our national history" and he said it "demonstrates that Jefferson was a broad visionary thinker who not only possessed a Quran, but read it."

"It would have been something that contributed to his own thinking," Ellison was quoted as saying.

In an interview with USINFO, Ellison spokesman Rick Jauert went further, saying the choice of Jefferson's Quran was significant because it "dates religious tolerance back to the time of our founding fathers."

"Jefferson was ... one of the more profound thinkers of the time, who recognized even then that there was nothing to fear, and in fact there was strength in recognizing religious tolerance," he said.

Ted Sampley, the publisher of U.S. Veteran Dispatch, agreed with Ellison, who used the Library of Congress Quran that Jefferson once owned for his ceremonial swearing-in to Congress, that Jefferson used the Quran for his own thinking, but not with the same result.

"There is no doubt Ellison was right about Jefferson believing wisdom could be 'gleaned' from the Muslim Quran," Sampley writes. "At the time Jefferson owned the book, he needed to know everything possible about Muslims because he was about to advocate war against the Islamic 'Barbary' states of Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia and Tripoli."

He noted that over 10 centuries, Muslim pirates had cruised the African and Mediterranean coastline, pillaging villages and abducting slaves, mostly by making pre-dawn raids that left high casualty rates.

"It was typical of Muslim raiders to kill off as many of the 'non-Muslim' older men and women as possible so the preferred 'booty' of only young women could be collected," he said. The women were sought for their value as concubines in Islamic markets.

"Boys, as young as 9 or 10 years old, were often mutilated to create eunuchs who would bring higher prices in the slave markets of the Middle East," Sampley wrote. When American colonists rebelled against the English in 1776, merchant ships from what later would be the United States lost British navy protection, and they were attacked "and their Christian crews enslaved by Muslim pirates operating under the control of the 'Dey of Algiers' - an Islamist warlord ruling Algeria."

The Continental Congress then met in 1784 to talk about treaties with leaders of the region, and John Adams, Thomas Jefferson and Benjamin Franklin were appointed to oversee the work.

"Tribute" and "ransoms" first were paid to the Muslim slavers, and Adams argued that was the cheapest way to get commerce moving, Sampley wrote. But Jefferson was opposed, proposing a settlement of the issue "through the medium of war."

Sampley writes that two years later, when Jefferson was ambassador to France, and Adams was ambassador to Britain, they met in London with Sidi Haji Abdul Rahman Adja, the ambassador to Britain from the "Dey of Algiers." Seeking a peace treaty, based on Congress' vote to pay tribute, the two Americans asked Dey's ambassador why Muslims had so much hostility towards America. They later reported to Congress the ambassador told them Islam "was founded on the Laws of their Prophet, that it was written in their Quran, that all nations who should not have acknowledged their authority were sinners, that it was their right and duty to make war upon them wherever they could be found, and to make slaves of all they could take as Prisoners, and that every Musselman (Muslim) who should be slain in Battle was sure to go to Paradise." Sampley notes that for years the American government paid Muslims millions of dollars for the safe passage of American ships or the return of American hostages, but not long after Jefferson's inauguration in 1801, he dispatched the USS Constitution, USS Constellation, USS Philadelphia, USS Chesapeake, USS Argus, USS Syren and USS Intrepid to the Mediterranean.

Jefferson's first presidency coincided with what generally is called the Barbary Wars running from approximately 1801-1805. That year the Marines marched from Egypt into Tripolitania, freeing Americans held there as slaves, he wrote.

Gary DeMar, president of AmericanVision.org, added his endorsement of Sampley's interpretation of history. DeMar cites Joseph Wheelan's book, "Jefferson's War: America's First War on Terror," in noting Jefferson said, "Too long, for the honor of nations, have those Barbarians been [permitted] to trample on the sacred faith of treaties, on the rights and laws of human nature!"

DeMar notes that research treatise concludes that, "Jefferson's war pitted a modern republic with a free-trade, entrepreneurial creed against a medieval autocracy whose credo was piracy and terror. It matched an ostensibly Christian nation against an avowed Islamic one that professed to despise Christians."

"Wheelan's historical assessment of the time is on target," DeMar noted. "Except for its Native American population and a small percentage of Jews, the United States was solidly Christian, while the North African regencies were just as solidly Muslim - openly hostile toward Christians."

"So what did Jefferson learn from the Quran? Unless a nation submitted to Islam, whether it was the aggressor or not, that nation was by definition at war with Islam. It's no wonder that Jefferson studied the Quran. He realized that if Americans ever capitulated, the Muslims would be singing 'From the Halls of Montezuma to the Shores of America,'" DeMar concluded.

As WND has reported Ellison has allowed his supporters to shout, "Allahu Akbar!," the same phrase allegedly used by the 9/11 suicide pilots, he's spoken to various Islamic groups, he's used that Quran to be sworn into office, but he hasn't responded to WND requests to confirm he will base his decisions on the laws of the U.S. on the Constitution, not the Quran.

He has confirmed that "in terms of political agenda items, my faith informs these things."

Jauert confirmed to WND that the congressman does not believe there will be a conflict between his religious beliefs and his duty under the U.S. Constitution.

But when asked which would take priority if there is a conflict, or to describe how the congressman will resolve the differing philosophies provided by the U.S. Constitution and the Quran, which calls for beheading "infidels," he said he could not answer immediately.

One blogger was a little concerned over the situation: "During the victory celebration for the nation's first Muslim congressman (not that there's anything wrong with that... in principle), Congressman Keith Ellison's supporters scream 'Allahu Akbar!'; the same phrase that the 9/11 hijackers screamed, the same phrase suicide bombers scream, the same phrase head choppers scream before slicing off the heads of hapless and bound victims. May God protect this country," the blogger wrote.

WND also has reported Ellison has been linked to a radical Islamic school of thought that requires loyalty to the Quran over the U.S. Constitution.

A black convert to orthodox Sunni Islam, Ellison spoke to the North American Imams Federation, or NAIF, at the group's Nov. 19 conference in Minneapolis.

His talk flowed into a breakout session listed on the agenda simply as "American Open University," according to the conference program. It turns out the university is a "distance-learning" center based in Alexandria, Va., and known to local law enforcement as "Wahhabi Online."

Later that day, Ellison met with NAIF's president, Omar Ahmad Shahin, who lectures at the same American Open University. (He also met at the time with New York imam Siraj Wahhaj, an unindicted co-conspirator in the 1993 World Trade Center bombing.) The radical Islamic school trains many of NAIF's more than 150 members, who control mosques across America.

American Open University supports Sharia, or Islamic law. And its founder and chairman, Jaafar Sheikh Idris, has denounced the U.S. system of democracy as "the antithesis of Islam" and argued no man has the right to make laws outside Allah's laws expressed in the Quran.

Ellison's campaign also was backed by the Washington-based lobby group Council on American-Islamic Relations, a partner organization to American Open University-affiliated NAIF. CAIR held fundraisers for Ellison, a civil-rights lawyer and one-time acolyte of Louis Farrakhan who admits to making anti-Semitic remarks in the past (under various alias including Keith Hakim, Keith Ellison-Muhammad and Keith X Ellison).

CAIR's founder has argued the Quran should replace the Constitution as the highest authority in the land. The group's director of communications, moreover, has expressed his desire to see the U.S. become an Islamic state." (WorldNetDaily.com 1/10/2007)

I hope the dangerous teachings of Islam are becoming abundantly clear. I believe they are as dangerous as any dictator, philosophy, ideology or constitution that has conquered and ruled nations throughout history. Islam is as unforgiving and brutally destructive and deadly as Communism. Mohammad and his doctrine was as evil and prejudicial as Hitler, Stalin, or Nero and worse than Sadaam Hussein. Mohammad was illiterate and by his own admission (prior to being convinced he was a prophet), thought he was demon possessed.

Robert Spencer writes in his book, "The Politically Incorrect Guide to Islam And The Crusades." Bertrand Russell on Islam: Bolshevism combines the characteristics of the French Revolution with those of the rise of Islam. Marx has taught that Communism is fatally predestined to come about; this produces a state of mind not unlike that of the early successors of Muhommet. Among religions, Bolshevism is to be reckoned with Mohammedanism rather than with Christianity and Buddhism. Christianity and Buddhism are primarily personal religions, with mystical doctrines and a love of contemplation. Mohammedanism and Bolshevism are practical, social, unspiritual, concerned to win the empire of this world." Pg 173

Dear reader: After reading my three articles, there should be no doubt of the serious situation in which the nations of the world find themselves. Most people do not understand the religion called Islam, nor do they study world history to realize that there is a constant pattern of propaganda, war, violence and death initiated by the disciples of this religion. Even in the United States, people live in fear when they convert from being a Muslim to becoming a Christian.

All over the world, including Europe, Islam is sweeping the nations and influencing society, first through quiet peaceful social endeavors, but eventually through intimidation, torture, fighting and killing until the nation succumbs to the constant increasing pressures of this well oiled political war machine. Yes, Muhammad was a man of war and the Qur'an is a book of war, and history bears witness to this undeniable fact.

The reality is that Islam is more a political organization than a religious one and the Qur'an is the constitution. I believe without a doubt that mankind is literally in a struggle for its cultural survival. America's Christian heritage should be cherished and defended. It is critical to educate society about the dangers of any religion or person who challenges their values and beliefs by a domineering, oppressive doctrine which holds all of society under its control. Just Like Today: Child Marriages in the Islamic World

"This has touched millions of women and girls in societies where the Qur'an is absolute truth and Muhammad is the model for all human behavior. More than half of the teenage girls in Afghanistan and Bangladesh are married. Ayatollah Khomeini told the Muslim faithful that marrying a girl before she began menstruating was "a divine blessing." He counseled fathers: "Do your best to ensure that your daughters do not see their first blood in your house." Iranian girls can get married when they are a young as nine with parental permission, or thirteen without consent. With child marriage comes domestic violence: "In Egypt 29 percent of married adolescents have been beaten by their husbands; of those, 41 percent were beaten during pregnancy. A study in Jordan indicated that 26 percent of reported cases of domestic violence were committed against wives under 18." Pg 69

The Qur'an directs that women must "lower their gaze and guard their modesty; that they should not display their beauty and ornaments except what must ordinarily appear thereof; that they should draw their veils over their bosoms and not display their beauty except to their husbands, their fathers" and few others. (Qur'an 24:31)

Just Like Today: Girls die for the burqa

A graphic example of the oppression that Islamic dress regulations for women engender came in March 2002 in Mecca, when fifteen girls were killed in a fire at their school. Saudi Arabia's religious police, the muttawa, wouldn't let the girls out of the building. Since only women were in the school, the girls had shed their all-concealing outer garments. The muttawa preferred the girls' death to transgression of Islamic law—to the extent that they actually battled police and fireman who were trying to open the school's doors. Pg 68

Muhammad & the Qur'an: A Man & Book of War or Peace? Part 4

In my first three articles, we have looked at the indisputable facts verifying that Muhammad was indeed a man of war, that the Qur'an is a book of war and that history reveals the attitudes and beliefs of the disciples of Muhammad which testify to a constant theme of aggression, war and conquest. Islam is different than all other religions in that its core doctrine is world domination by violence, if necessary. Islam is more a political organization than a religion. Islam, unlike Christianity, is not content with living peacefully with other religions on earth, but it is focused on ruling the nations on earth, initially through propaganda, then deception, intimidation, violence and jihad. I continue to quote from the book, The Politically Incorrect Guide to ISLAM (and the Crusades) by Robert Spencer.

"It is not just Muhammad's opinion. It is the law.

Okay, so Muhammad was commanded to fight against people until they became Muslims or submitted to Islamic law. And the Qur'an teaches warfare. But that doesn't mean Muslims have taught all this, right? Aren't you just cherry-picking embarrassing verses in an attempt to make Islam look bad?" Pg 37

"In a word: NO. The unpleasant fact is that violent Jihad warfare against unbelievers is not a heretical doctrine held by a tiny minority of extremists, but a constant element of mainstream Islamic theology. Islam is pre-occupied with legal questions; indeed, Islamic law contains instructions for the minutest details of individual behavior, as well as regulations on the structuring of government and relations between states."

"It also contains unmistakable affirmations of the centrality of Jihad warfare against unbelievers. This is true of all four principal schools of Sunni Muslim jurisprudence, the Maliki, Hanafi, Hanbali, and Shafi'i, to which the great majority of Muslims worldwide belong. It is a commonly accepted principle in the Islamic world that the "gates of ijti-had," or free inquiry into the Qur'an and Islamic tradition in order to discover Allah's rulings, have been closed for centuries. In other words, Islamic teaching on principle matters has long been settled and is not to be called into question. (To be sure, there are reform-minded Muslims today who have called for a reopening of the "gates of ijithad" so that Islam can be reinterpreted, but so far these calls have gone unheeded by the most important and influential authorities in the Islamic world.)"

"Therefore, barring a general reopening of the "gates of ijithad", which seems extremely unlikely, these rulings will remain normative for mainstream Muslims. All four principal Sunni schools agree on the importance of Jihad."

"PC Myth: Islam is a religion of peace that has been hijacked by a tiny minority of extremists. This, of course, is the mother of all PC myths about Islam. Yet, its persistence and resilience in the face of mountains of evidence to the contrary, both from Islamic theology and today's newspapers, is not simply due to naïve multiculturalism and cynical duplicity. Even the Muslim Brotherhood theorist, Sayyid Qutb, one of the twentieth century's foremost advocates of violent jihad, taught (without a trace of irony) that Islam is a religion of peace. However, he had a very specific kind of peace in mind: "When Islam strives for peace, its objective is not that superficial peace which requires that only that part of the earth where the followers of Islam are residing remain secure. Islam is a religion of the peace that will come when everyone is Muslim or at least subject to the Islamic state. And, to establish that peace, Muslims must wage war." Pg 42

"Islam is unique among the religions of the world in having a developed doctrine, theology, and legal system that mandates warfare against unbelievers. However, many will claim that even by marshalling this evidence, I am trying to make people think that every Muslim is a terrorist, and that your Arab or Pakistani convenience store clerk is secretly plotting the violent downfall of the United States. Some will even say that I am trying to incite violence against that convenience store clerk and other innocents. This is, of course, arrant nonsense, but it does indicate that some clarification is needed. In the first place, the fact that warfare against unbelievers is not a twisting of Islam, but is repeatedly affirmed in the Qur'an, the Hadith, the example of Muhammad, and the rulings of every school of Islamic jurisprudence, does not make every Muslim a terrorist." Pg 43

"There are several principal reasons for this. One is that because the Qur'an is in difficult, classical Arabic, and must be read and recited during Muslim prayers in that language only, a surprisingly large number of those who identify themselves as Muslims have scant acquaintance with what it actually says. Although the media establishment continues to interchange the words "Muslim" and "Arab", most Muslims worldwide today are not Arabs. Even modern Arabic, much less classical Qur'anic Arabic, is foreign to them. They often memorize the Qur'an by rote without any clear idea of what it actually says. A Pakistani Muslim once proudly told me

"If My people who are called by My name will humble themselves, and pray and seek My face, and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin and heal their land."

2 Chronicles 7:14

that he had memorized large sections of the Qur'an, and planned to buy a translation one day so that he could find out exactly what it was saying. Such instances are common to a degree that may surprise most non-Muslims." Pg 43

"Up until recent times other cultural factors have also prevented Muslims, particularly in Eastern Europe and Central Asia, from acting on or even knowing much about Islam's actual teachings on how to deal with unbelievers. That is changing, however. In those areas and elsewhere around the world Muslim hardliners; though not always financed by Saudi Arabia, have made deep inroads into peaceful Muslim communities by preaching violent Islam as the "pure Islam" and calling Muslims back to the full observance of their religion." Pgs 43 & 44

"This recruitment focuses on the Qur'an and other key Islamic texts. Take, for example, the case of Sahim Alwan, an American citizen and leader of the Yemeni community in Lackawanna, New York, and one time president of the mosque there. He has the distinction of being the first American to attend an al Qaeda training camp. Why did he go? He was convinced to do so by Kamal Derwish, an al Qaeda recruiter. Alwan explained that Derwish taught him that the Qur'an "says you have to learn how to prepare. Like, you gotta be prepared just in case you do have to go to war. If there is war, then you would have to be called for Jihad. And that was the aspect of the camp itself, for going to learn how to use weapons, and stuff like that." Of course, there are some Muslims who are working to bring about change within Islam, but it is difficult to discern their motives. The prominent American Muslim spokesman Siraj Wahaj, for instance, is often presented as a moderate."

In 1991, he even became the first Muslim to give an invocation to the U.S. Congress. And why not? Not long after the September 11 attacks, he said just what jittery Americans wanted to hear from Muslims: "I now feel responsible to preach, actually to go on a jihad against extremism." Pg 44

"Whether his true thoughts are more extreme remains unclear; after all, he has also warned that the United States will fall unless it "accepts the Islamic agenda" He has lamented that "If only Muslims were clever politically, they could take over the United States and replace its constitutional government with a caliphate." In the early 1990s, he sponsored talks by Sheikh Omar Abdel Rahman in mosques in New York City and New Jersey. Rahman was later convicted for conspiring to blow up the World Trade Center in 1993, and Wahaj was designated a "potential unindicted co-conspirator." Pg 45

"The fact that someone who would like to see the Constitution replaced has led a prayer for those sworn to uphold it is just a symptom of a larger, ongoing problem: The government and media are eager to find moderate Muslims-and as their desperation has increased, their standards have declined. Unfortunately, it is not so easy to find Muslim leaders who have genuinely renounced violent jihad and any intention, now or in the future, to impose Sharia on non-Muslim countries."

Nonetheless, there are enormous numbers of Muslims in the United States and around the world who want nothing to do with today's global jihad. While their theological foundation is weak, many are heroically laboring to create a viable moderate Islam that will allow Muslims to coexist peacefully with their non-Muslims neighbors. They are to be commended, but make no mistake: This moderate Islam does not exist to any significant extent in the world today. Where Muslims do coexist peacefully with non-Muslims, as in Central Asia and elsewhere, it is not simply because the teachings of jihad have been reformed or rejected; they have simply been ignored, and history teaches us that they can be remembered at any time." Pg 45

"Muslim spokesmen in the United States have worked hard to present a vision of Islam as benign, open, and accepting. They depict Islam as akin to Judaism and Christianity and, like them, liable to be "hijacked." Most Americans today accept this as axiomatic and many would consider rejecting it an act of "racism," despite the fact that Islam is not a race and most Muslims in the world today are not members of the ethnic group with which they are most often identified, the Arabs. But there's just one problem with the common view: It isn't true. We've already seen how thoroughly Islam is a religion of war; it is also profoundly, a religion of intolerance." Pg 47

"PC MYTH: ISLAM IS A TOLERANT FAITH. Jews and Christians, goes the PC line, lived in harmony with Muslims during the era of the great Islamic empires of the past. When jihad terrorists bombed Madrid on March 11, 2004, commentators unctuously reminded the world that when Muslims ruled Spain, it was a beacon of tolerance where Muslims, Jews, and Christians lived together in peace and harmony. When jihadists bombed synagogues in Istanbul on November 15, 2003, the commentators intoned that the bombings were particularly heartbreaking in a city that for so long had known tranquility among Muslims, Jews, and Christians." Pgs 47 & 48

"This unquestionable dogma of Islamic tolerance has important political implications. It discourages anti-terrorism investigators in Europe and America from monitoring activity in mosques. It helps perpetuate the mistaken notion that Islamic terrorism comes from political grievances and socioeconomic imbalances. European governments with rapidly growing Muslim populations use it to reassure themselves that in old Al-Andalus, Islamic hegemony wasn't all that bad. European and American politicians and religious leaders woo the growing Islamic communities in their nations, trying to win their political support and assuming that they will assimilate easily and become peaceful, active participants in the political process. Why not? Islam is tolerant and teaches pluralism. What could be a better foundation for participation in Western democracy?" Pg 48

"The idea of a tolerant Islam has even been taken up at the United Nations. The Turkish daily Zaman reported March 2005 that at a UN seminar, "Confronting Islamophobia: Education for Tolerance and Understanding." "the tolerance that Ottomans showed to people of different religions was held up as an example to be adopted even today" and was lauded as a "social model in which different religions and nations lived under the same roof for hundreds of years." Pg 48

"It doesn't seem to have come up at the UN that when the different religions lived under the same roof, one was the master and the others lived as despised inferiors." Pg 48

"The Qur'an calls Jews and Christians "People of the Book". Islamic law calls them dhimmis which means "protected" or "guilty" people the Arabic word means both. They are "protected because, as People of the Book, they have received genuine revelations ("The Book") from Allah and thus differ in status from out-and-out pagans and idolaters like Hindus and Buddhists. (Historically, the latter two groups have been treated even worse by Islamic conquerors, although as a practical matter their Muslim masters ultimately awarded them dhimmi status.) Jews and Christians are "guilty" because they have not only rejected Muhammad as a prophet, but have also distorted the legitimate revelations they received from Allah. Because of that guilt, Islamic law dictates that Jews and Christians may live in Islamic states, but not as equals with Muslims. One Muslim jurist explained that the caliph must "make jihad against those who resist Islam after having been called to it until they submit or accept to live as a protected dhimmi-community-so that Allah's rights, may He be exalted, 'be made uppermost above all [other] religion' (Qur'an 9:33)." Pg 49

"While Jews, Christians, and other non-Muslims are allowed to practice their religions, they must do so under severely restrictive conditions that remind them of their second-class status at every turn." Pgs 48 & 49

"The Christians' agreement with the caliph Umar continues: We will not prevent any Muslim from resting in our churches whether they come by day or night...Those Muslims who come as guests will enjoy boarding and food for three days." The agreement also mandates a number of humiliating regulations to make sure that the dhimmis "feel themselves subdued" in accordance with Qur'an 9:29." Pg 50

The Christians promised:

"We will not...prevent any of our fellows from embracing Islam, if they choose to do so. We will respect Muslims, move from the places we sit in if they choose to sit in them. We will not imitate their clothing, caps, turbans, sandals, hairstyles, speech, nicknames and title names, or ride on saddles, hand swords on the shoulders, collect weapons of any kind or carry these weapons... We will not encrypt our stamps in Arabic or sell liquor. We will have the front of our hair cut, wear our customary clothes wherever we are, wear seat belts around our waist, refrain from erecting crosses on the outside of our churches and demonstrating them and our books in public in Muslim fairways and markets. We will not sound the bells in our churches, except discreetly, or raise our voices while reciting our holy books inside our churches in the presence of Muslims." Pg 50

"After these and other rules are fully laid out, the agreement concludes: "These are the conditions that we set against ourselves and followers of our religion in return for safety and protection. If we break any of these promises that we set for your benefit against ourselves, then our Dhimmad (promise of protection) is broken and you are allowed to do with us what you are allowed of people of defiance and rebellion." All this is still part of the Sharia today." Pgs 50 & 51

"If they violate these terms, the law further stipulates that they can be killed or sold into slavery at the discretion of the Muslim leader. Dhimmis were also strictly forbidden, on pain of death, to proselytize among Muslims, a prohibition accompanied by a similar death sentence for Muslims who left Islam. Both of these, along with other provisions of dhimmitude, remain part of Islamic law today." Pg 51

"In the fourteenth century, the pioneering sociologist Ibn Khaldun explained the options of Christians: "It is [for them to choose between] conversion to Islam, payment of the poll tax, or death." Payment of the jizya often took place in a peculiar and demeaning ceremony in which the Muslim tax official hit the dhimmi on the head or back of the neck. Tritton explained, "The dhimmi has to be made to feel that he is an inferior person when he pays, he is not be treated with honour." Pgs 54 & 55

"The infidel personally must place the money on the scales, while the collector holds him by the beard, and strikes him on both cheeks." Pg 55

"Non-Muslims often converted to Islam to avoid this tax: This is how the vast Christian populations of North Africa and the Middle East ultimately became tiny, demoralized minorities. Nowhere in the Islamic world today do non-Muslims enjoy full equality if rights with Muslims." Pg 56

Dear reader:

We are all living in a world that is coming under a global jihad, whether it is propaganda or classified as terrorism. If the world does not awake to the true dangers of Islamic aggression, nation after nation will lose their innate right to freedom of expression through speech and life choices. Tyranny occurs in a nation when their people loose their right to debate and discuss issues openly, honestly, and thoroughly. Freedom of speech is the foundation of liberty and freedom for a nation. Examining the dangers of any religion is not hate speech, but is patriotic responsibility for its citizens. (To be continued...)

Muhammad & the Qur'an: A Man & Book of War or Peace? Part 5

Dear reader, you will have to agree that we are living in very dangerous times. People are being persecuted, tortured, maimed, and decapitated all in the name of Allah. Confusion and ignorance abound throughout the people living in nations because of fear, stupidity, and compromising positions of leadership who want to win the favor and votes of people residing in their nation. In this article series I have endeavored to inform and educate people to the reality of two religions that some people repute are basically the same. I have compared Muhammad to Jesus Christ and the Qur'an to the Bible. Besides studying the lives of these two personalities and comparing their holy books, I have studied the lives and conduct of their disciples. Thus, all objective people and nations can conclude from the examples of history itself, which substantiates the assertions based on the evidence, that Jesus Christ and Muhammad were two totally different leaders with completely opposite values, beliefs, and goals.

Muhammad was unequivocally a man of war. He had 15 wives, and he himself thought that he was demon possessed before his wife and others convinced him that instead of being filled with an evil spirit he was a special prophet of Allah.

We have concluded also in the previous articles that the Qur'an is a book of war, and a Pentagon report verified this allegation. Thus started the Islam religion through this very disturbed individual.

As I have asserted in previous articles, Islam is more a political organization than a religious one, and the Qur'an is the constitution. I believe without a doubt that mankind is literally in a struggle for its cultural freedoms and existence. If society in every nation is not immediately educated of the inherent dangers of Islam, more nations will continue to be subject to Islamic jihad and eventually subjugated until the world is under the tyranny of Islam.

Robert Spencer's book, "The Politically Incorrect Guide to Islam and the Crusades", reveals how all of Europe is being taken over by Islamic Indoctrination and Influence. Please read the following excerpts:

"Through massive immigration and official "dhimitude" from European leaders, Muslims are accomplishing today what they failed to do at the time of the Crusaders: conquer Europe. How quickly is Europe being Islamized? So quickly that even historian Bernard Lewis, who has continued throughout his honor-filled career to be disingenuous about Islamic radicalism and terrorism, forthrightly told the German newspaper Die Welt: 'Europe will be Islamic by the end of the century.' Or maybe sooner." Pg 221 & 222

"If demographic trends continue, France, Holland, and other Western European nations could have Muslim majorities by the middle of this century. Meanwhile, these growing Muslim minorities are increasingly assertive and disruptive. Consider some recent indicators from other European nations." Pg 222

"Sweden's third-largest city, Malmo, has become a Middle East outpost in Scandinavia. A quarter of the city's population is now Muslim, and that number is rapidly growing. Nor are the Muslims of Malmo inclined to be peaceful and tolerant. Even the police are afraid: 'If we park our car it will be damaged, so we have to go very often in two vehicles, one just to protect the other vehicle,' reported a police officer in Malmo. Meanwhile, Swedish ambulance driver will not enter some areas of Malmo unless police accompany them." Pg 222

"The Nordgardsskolen in Aarhus, Denmark, has become the first Dane-free school. The students now come entirely from Denmark's fastest-growing constituency: Muslim immigrants." Pg 222

"Also in Denmark, the Qur'an is now required reading for all upper-secondary school students. There should be nothing wrong with requiring students to read Qur'an, but given the current ascendancy of political correctness on the Continent, it is unlikely that critical perspectives will be included." Pg 222

"Pakistani Muslim leader Qazi Hussain Ahmed gave an address at the Islamic Cultural Center in Oslo. He was allowed into the country despite the fact that, according to Norway's Aftenposten, he 'has earlier made flattering comments about Osama bin Laden, and his party, Jamaate-Islami, also has hailed al-Qaeda members as heroes.' In Norway, he declined to answer questions about whether he thought homosexuals should be killed." Pgs 222 & 223

World Ministries International

...believes in the following essential fundamentals of faith:

1) WE BELIEVE in the unique divine inspiration of all the canonical books of the Old and New Testaments, as originally given, and that they are infallibly and uniquely authoritative and free from error of any sort, in all matters with which they deal, scientific and historical as well as moral and theological.

2) WE BELIEVE in the special creation of the existing space-time universe and all its basic systems and kinds of organisms in the six literal days of the creation week.

3) WE BELIEVE in the full historicity and perspicuity of the biblical record of primeval history, including the literal existence of Adam and Eve as the progenitors of all people, the literal Fall and resultant divine curse on the creation, the world-wide cataclysmic deluge and the origin of nations and languages at the Tower of Babel.

4) WE BELIEVE in the triune Godhead: one eternal, transcendent, omnipotent and personal God existing in three Persons: Father, Son and Holy Spirit.

5) WE BELIEVE that God the Father, the first person of the Divine Trinity, is infinite spirit -- sovereign, eternal and unchangeable in all His attributes. He is worthy of honor, adoration and obedience.

6) WE BELIEVE in the perfect, sinless humanity and the absolute, full deity of the Lord Jesus Christ, indissolubly united in one divine-human person since His unique incarnation by miraculous conception and virgin birth.

Elsewhere in Europe, Jihad is taking a more violent form. Dutch officials have uncovered at least fifteen separate terrorist plots, all aimed at punishing the Netherlands for its 1,300 peacekeeping troops in Iraq. And in Spain Moroccan Muslims, including several suspected participants in the March 11 Madrid bombings, took control of a wing in a Spanish prison in fall 2004. From there, they broadcast Muslim prayers at high volume, physically intimidated non-Muslim prisoners, hung portraits of Osama bin Laden, and boasted, 'We are going to win the holy war.' What was the guards' response? They asked the ringleaders to please lower the volume on the prayers." Pg 223

"What Europe has long sown, it is now reaping. In her book, Eurabia, Bat Ye'or, the pioneering historian of dhimitude, chronicles how this has come to pass. Europe, she explains, began thirty years ago to travel down a path of appeasement, accommodation, and cultural abdication in pursuit of shortsighted political and economic benefits. She observes that today Europe has evolved from a Judeo-Christian civilization, with important post-Enlightenment/secular elements, to a civilization of dhimitude, i.e., Eurabia: a secular-Muslim transitional society with its traditional Judeo-Christian mores rapidly disappearing." Pg 223

"If Western Europe does become Islamized, as demographic trends suggest, before too long America will be facing a world that is drastically different and more forbidding than it is today." Pg 223

"While American fights a war on terror that has included the toppling of Saddam Hussein and the occupation of Iraq, France and Germany have pursued a different strategy, attempting to establish the European Union as a global counterweight to the United States- a strategy that involves close cooperation with the Arab League. Pg 224

"The situation in Europe has grown quite grave, and something must be done. It may be that the world needs a new Crusade, though of a kind different from those led by Richard the Lionhearted and Godfrey of Bouillon. We have seen in this book that the Crusades were primarily an act of defense against the encroachment of Islam. In that sense a new Crusade is not only possible but desirable." Pg 224

"Am I calling for a war between Christianity and Islam? Certainly not. What I am calling for is a general recognition that we are already in a war between two vastly different ideas of how to govern states and order societies, and that in this struggle the West has nothing to apologize for and a great deal to defend. Indeed, the struggle against Sharia is nothing less than a struggle for universal human rights, a concept that originated in the West and is denied by Islam. What we are fighting today is not precisely a 'war on terror'." Pg 224

"A refusal to identify the enemy is extremely dangerous: It leaves those who refuse vulnerable to being blindsided, as proven by the White House access granted by both Bill Clinton and George W. Bush to now-jailed jihadists such as Abdurrahman Alamoudi and Sami Al-Arian." Pgs 224 & 225

"A forthright acknowledgment that we are facing a renewed jihad would go a long way to preventing that sort of diplomatic and intelligence embarrassment. This is not really as far-fetched as it may seem. Jihad terrorists have declared war on the United States and other non-Muslim nations. All the U.S. and Western European countries need to do is identify the enemy as they have identified themselves." Pg 225

"After the September 11 terrorist attacks, President Bush warned the world, 'You're either with the terrorists or you're with us.' But because of official Washington's persistent refusal to acknowledge exactly who the terrorists are and why they are fighting, that bold line in the sand has been obscured time and again. And few, if any, are even asking the right questions." Pg 225

"A few modest proposals to this end: In the first place, it is scandalous that so many years after President Bush announced that 'you're either with the terrorists or with us', the United States still counts as friends and allies, or at least recipients of its largesse, so many states where jihadist activity is widespread." Pg 226

"The foreign aid to the treatment of non-Muslims: A State Department that really had America's interests at heart would immediately stop all forms of American aid to Kosovo, Algeria, Somalia, Sudan, Egypt, Jordan, the Palestinians, Pakistan, Indonesia, and even Iraq and Afghanistan, and any other state, until each demonstrably ends all support-material, educational, and religious-for jihad warfare, and grants full equality of rights to any non-Muslim citizens." Pg 226

"Reconfigure our global alliances on the same basis. Pakistan, Saudi Arabia, and the other exporters of jihad should be put on notice. Continued friendly relations with the United States absolutely depend on an immediate and comprehensive renunciation of the jihad, including a reformation of schools that teach it. It cannot be enough for a state to denounce or renounce terror; each must stop Islamic jihad as a means of understanding the integrity of other states." Pg 226

"At the same time, the United States should try to cultivate closer ties with states that have been victims of jihad violence, most notably, Russia. So far, Russia's resistance to the global jihad has been even more inconsistent and shortsighted than our own. However, if the U.S. were to acknowledge that we are up against a worldwide jihad and seek closer ties on that basis, this might start to change." Pg 226

"Call on Muslim states to renounce Sharia's expansionist imperative. To be a friend of the United States, each state must renounce any intentions to try to realize the Islamic goals enunciated by Pakistani Islamic leader Syed Abul Ala Maududi, who declared that when Mus-lms are ruled by non-Muslims, 'the believers would be under an obligation to do their utmost to dislodge them from political power and to make them live in subservience to the Islamic way of life.'" Pgs 226 & 227

"His comments were in full accord with Islamic theology and history, as well as with the Qur'an as it has been read and understood by Muslims for centuries. This is the goal of the jihadists today; it should be the fundamental defining point of U.S. alliances with Muslim states. Pg 227

"The State Department needs to come to grips with the fact that it is facing a totalitarian, supremacist, and expansionist ideology, and plan accordingly. Not only has it not been done, but it is so far off the table that it never even occurred to Democratic senator Barbara Boxer to use it as another partisan stick with which to batter Dr. Rice's competence and veracity at her confirmation hearing. Now it is up to Secretary Rice herself to demonstrate whether she has the vision to do what is needed." Pg 228

"The first thing we need in order to defeat the jihad at home is an informed citizenry." Pg 228

Report honestly about jihadist activity in the U.S. and the West.

"An informed citizenry doesn't just read the Qur'an and other Islamic sources. It also demands responsible reporting from the media and honesty from law enforcement officials about jihadist attacks in the United States. We saw in chapter sixteen how common it is for such attacks to be explained away. This obfuscation no doubt stems from an official fear of stirring up vigilantes who will victimize Muslims in America. But this insults the intelligence and decency of the American public. Official unwillingness to draw obvious conclusions hinders our ability to make informed decisions about how to conduct the War on Terror. It has to stop." Pg 230

Reclassify Muslim organizations.

"Any Muslim group in America that does not explicitly renounce, in word and in deed, any intention now or in the future to replace the Constitution of the United States with Islamic Sharia should be classified as a political rather than a religious organization, and should be subject to all the responsibilities and standards to which political organizations must adhere." Pg 230

Take pride in Western culture.

"It's time for all the schools that dropped "Crusaders" as their team name to readopt it. The corrosive effects of multiculturalism have bred a suicidal hatred of the West among our own children. It's time to roll this back through a concerted effort to extirpate the multiculturalist ethos from school textbooks and the culture at large. Western civilization has given the world notions of human rights that are universally accepted (except in the Islamic world), technological advancement beyond the wildest dreams of people of previous ages, and a great deal more. Yet our own leaders and teachers tell us we must stand before the world in a posture of shame." Pgs 230 & 231

"It's time to say 'enough', and teach our children to take pride in their own heritage. To know that they have a culture and a history of which they can and should be grateful; that they are not the children and grandchildren of oppressors and villains; and that their homes and families are worth defending against those who want to take them away, and are willing to kill to do so. Call it a Crusade." Pgs 230 & 231

This concludes this series on Muhammad & the Qur'an: A Man & Book of War or Peace? The preponderance of evidence is overwhelming. It would convince a jury in a criminal trial that Muhammad and the Qur'an teach their disciples a different set of values, morals, ethics and behaviors. History itself attests to this fact. President Abraham Lincoln said that God judges individuals and nations for their iniquities. I believe he was totally correct.

The United States of America and the nations around the world are being judged for their sins because the Bible warns us that all men know there is a God, but because of their pride and willful disobedience, God turns them over to a reprobate mind to believe a lie and be damned.

Romans 1:18-32: "For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who suppress the truth in unrighteousness, because what may be known of God is manifest in them, for God has shown it to them. For since the creation of the world His invisible attributes are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even His eternal power and Godhead, so that they are without excuse, because, although they knew God, they did not glorify Him as God, nor were thankful, but became futile in their thoughts, and their foolish hearts were darkened. Professing to be wise, they became fools, and changed the glory of the incorruptible God into an image made like corruptible man—and birds and four-footed animals and creeping things. Therefore God also gave them up to uncleanness, in the lusts of their hearts, to dishonor their bodies among themselves, who exchanged the truth of God for the lie, and worshiped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed forever. Amen.

For this reason God gave them up to vile passions. For even their women exchanged the natural use for what is against nature. Likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust for one another; men with men committing what is shameful, and receiving in themselves the penalty of their error which was due. And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a debased mind, to do those things which are not fitting; being filled with all unrighteousness, sexual immorality, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness; full of envy, murder, strife, deceit, evil-mindedness; they are whisperers, backbiters, haters of God, violent, proud, boasters, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents, undiscerning, untrustworthy, unloving, unforgiving, unmerciful; who, knowing the righteous judgment of God, that those who practice such things are deserving of death, not only do the same but also approve of those who practice them."

7) WE BELIEVE in the substitutionary and redemptive sacrifice of Jesus Christ for the sin of the world, through His literal physical death, burial and resurrection, followed by His bodily ascension into heaven.

8) WE BELIEVE in personal salvation from the eternal penalty of sin provided solely by the grace of God on the basis of the atoning death and resurrection of Christ, to be received only through personal faith in His person and work.

9) WE BELIEVE that the Holy Spirit is the third person of the Godhead who convicts, regenerates, indwells and seals all believers in Christ and fills those who yield to Him. The Holy Spirit gives spiritual gifts to all believers; however, the manifestation of any particular gift is not required as evidence of salvation.

10) WE BELIEVE in the existence of a personal, malignant being called Satan who acts as a tempter and accuser, for whom the place of eternal punishment was prepared, where all who die outside of Christ shall be confined in conscious torment for eternity.

11) WE BELIEVE in the future, personal, bodily return of Jesus Christ to the earth to judge and purge sin, to establish His eternal Kingdom and to consummate and fulfill His purposes in the works of creation and redemption with eternal rewards and punishments.

12) WE BELIEVE in the literal, visible, personal return of Jesus Christ for His church. At this event, the dead in Christ and living believers will be translated to meet Him in the air.

13) WE BELIEVE in the priesthood of all believers so that every Christian has direct access to God in prayer through Jesus Christ, our Great High Priest, and that there is no mediator between God and humanity other than Jesus Christ.
